

Building Trusting Relationships

Presenter: Jackie Durocher

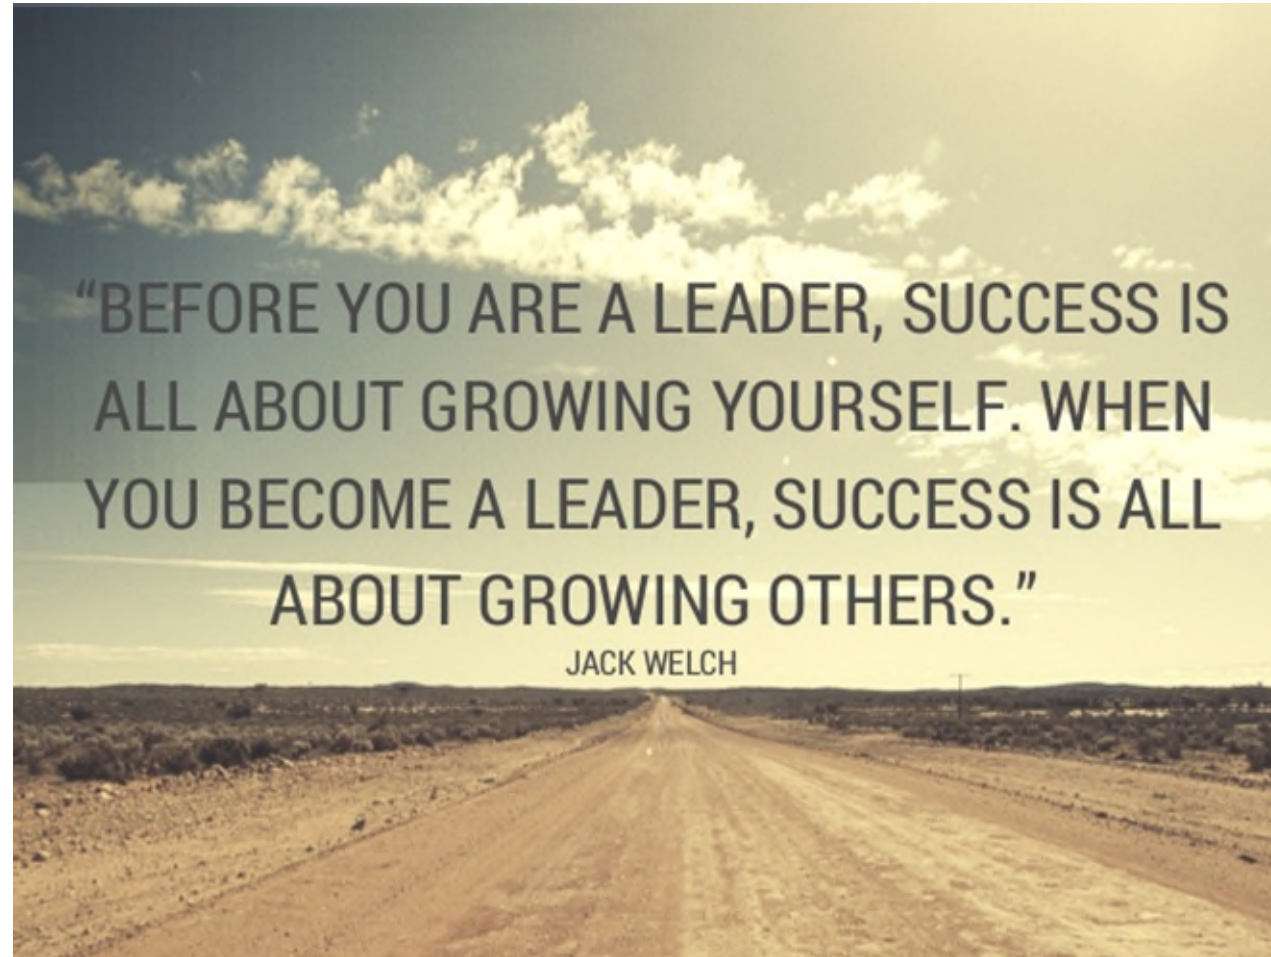

Jackie Durocher: Who, What, Where, When, Why & How?

Indigenous ways of knowing requires us to explore our identities, learning from our mistakes and having gratitude for our gifts. Learning is a journey that takes courage, patience and humility. It is striving to become a better human being and living with balance in Body, Mind, Heart and Spirit

Building Trust between Administrators, Teachers and Staff

Demonstrate Personal Integrity

Show that you care and be accessible

Facilitate and model effective communication

Involve Staff in decision making

A word cloud centered around the word "leadership". The word "leadership" is the largest and most prominent, rendered in a dark green color. Surrounding it are several other words in various sizes and colors (yellow, red, dark green, black). The words include: "selfless" (yellow), "leader" (black), "action" (dark green), "humility" (red), "servant" (black), "good-listener" (red), "open-minded" (black), "ethical" (red), and "role-model" (black).

Express value for disagreeing views

Keep an open mind.

Reduce Teacher sense of Vulnerability

Ensure that teachers have basic resources

Be prepared to replace ineffective teachers

Building Trust Among Teachers and Staff

Engage the full school in activities and discussions related to the school's mission, vision, and values.

Make New Teachers feel welcome

Create and support meaningful opportunities for teachers and staff to work collaboratively.

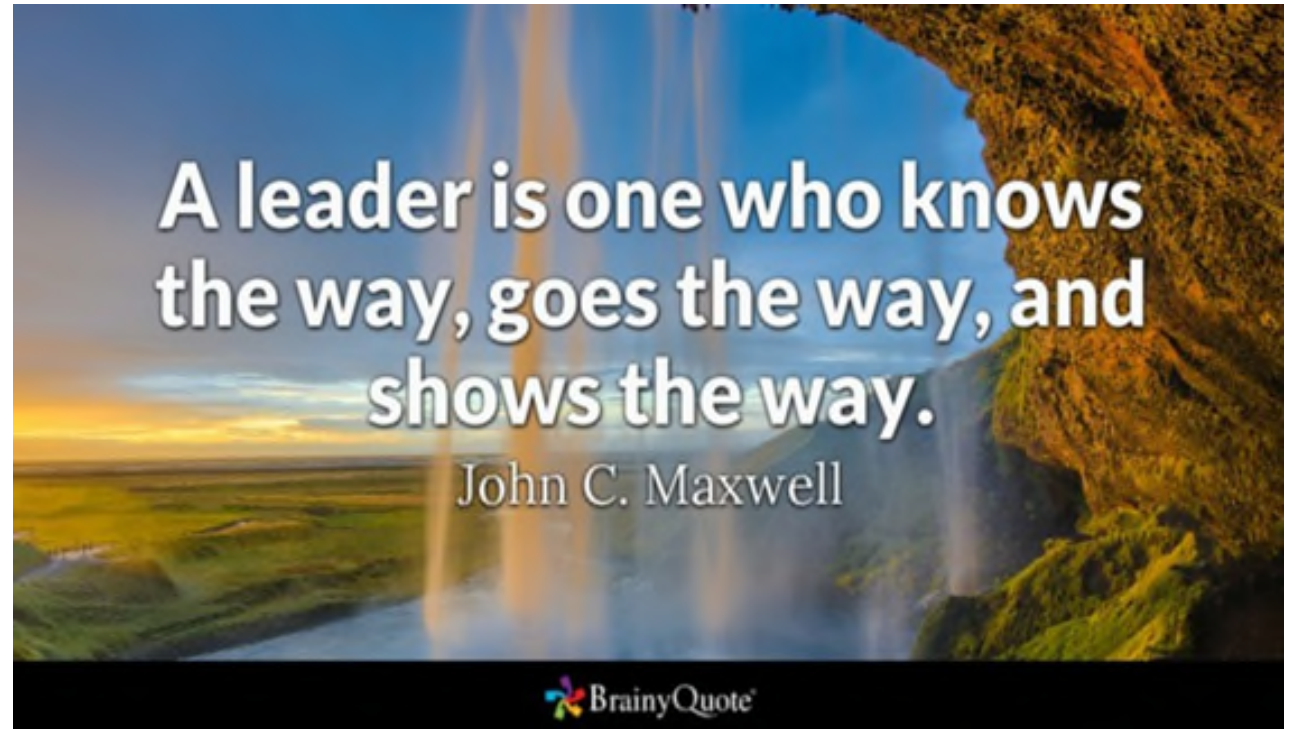

Identify ways to increase and/or improve school communication.

Choose a Professional development that promotes Relationship-Building

A School cannot improve without Trust

Tiniki
Merci Cho
Thank You

The logo consists of a stylized green plant with three leaves. To the right of the plant, the text "the good life" and "the good way of living" is written in a simple, lowercase font. Below the plant and text, the name "MITHO-PIMATISOWIN" is written in a large, bold, black, stylized font. Underneath that, the name "mitho-pimatisowin" is written in a smaller, lowercase, sans-serif font. The entire logo is centered on a white background, which is itself set within a larger green rectangular frame.

